A Place To Bury Strangers	Strange Moon	Dead Oceans	Pending	Vinyl	I first saw Dead Moon perform around 1992. Dead Moon was my friends favorite band and soon to become one of mine. It was the first of many shows he booked for them and I was lucky enough to get to know and play along side Fred, Toody and Andrew. They played before a band and proceeded to usurp the room with their straight up, stripped back, raw honesty and unbelievably great songs. Since joining A Place To Bury Strangers, we haven't recorded a single cover, until now. I like that APTBS has never made carbon copy versions of covers and has always made each song their own. When Oliver came up with the idea to do Strange Moon, it sounded like such an exciting and interesting project. A Place To Bury Strangers doing Dead Moon? Hell yeah, lets do it!! — Dion Lunadon, APTBS		2,000

Captain Beefheart	Frank Freeman's Dance Club		Pending		Deluxe 180 Gram vinyl LP on purple wax with gatefold sleeve. One of the highlights of Captain Beefheart's 1968 tour of the UK was the concert at Frank Freeman's Dance Club in Kidderminster. Fortunately legendary DJ John Peel brought his tape recorder and recorded four brilliant numbers from the show which appear on this album along with four other tracks from that era. Pride of place on the front cover of the LP goes to one of the recently discovered 1968 screen printed posters for the Frank Freeman's Beefheart show. With Beefheart coming from a country where band names like Quicksilver Messenger Service and Commander Cody and his Lost Planet Airmen were de rigueur, when Peel told Captain Beefheart he was driving him to a concert venue in Kidderminster called Frank Freeman's Dance Club, Beefheart said "What a groovy name" thinking it was in the same hippy west coast vibe as the aforementioned bands. Peel explained it wasn't a groovy name but simply a Dance Club run by Frank Freeman.		1000 (req 400)

Coltrane, John	Newport '61		Pending		Recorded at "Music at Newport" festival 1961 on Saturday night July 1st John Coltrane's previously unissued 1961 performance at the Newport Jazz Festival. The Newport tracks feature: McCoy Tyner on piano, Reggie Workman and Art Davis on bass, and Elvin Jones on drums - Live at Newport, Rhode Island, July 1, 1961. In May 1961, Coltrane's contract with Atlantic was bought out by the newly formed Impulse! Records label. An advantage to Coltrane recording with Impulse! was that it would enable him to work again with engineer Rudy Van Gelder, who had taped both his and Davis's Prestige sessions, as well as Blue Train. 					At last proof that the entire album was 'not' (as legend has it) recorded in one jam. Miles issued only brief instructions to his band prior to recording the sessions, so preparation was minimal, as was the way with Miles Davis. Kind of Blue is a studio album by American jazz musician Miles Davis, released on August 17, 1959, by Columbia Records. Recording sessions for the album took place at Columbia's 30th Street Studio in New York City on March 2 and April 22, 1959. The sessions featured Davis's ensemble sextet, which featured pianist Bill Evans, drummer Jimmy Cobb, bassist Paul Chambers, and saxophonists John Coltrane and Julian "Cannonball" Adderley. After the entry of Evans into his sextet, Davis followed up on the modal experimentations of Milestones (1958) by basing Kind of Blue entirely on modality, in contrast to his earlier work with the hard bop style of jazz. Though precise figures have been disputed, Kind of Blue has been described by many music writers not only as Davis's best-selling album, but as the best-selling jazz record of all time. On October 7, 2008, it was certified quadruple platinum in sales by the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA). It has been regarded by many critics as the greatest jazz album of all time and Davis's masterpiece. The album's influence on music, including jazz, rock, and classical music, has led music writers to acknowledge it as one of the most influential albums ever made. In 2002, it was one of fifty recordings chosen that year by the Library of Congress to be added to the National Recording Registry. In 2003, the album was ranked number 12 on Rolling Stone magazine's list of the 500 greatest albums of all time.		1000 (req 1000)

The original US version came from a new deal Chris Blackwell struck with Capitol Records. Whether copies of this compilation ever made it into the shops is debatable as there appear to be no copies without holes drilled or corners cut (cut-outs) as stock was sold to bargain-bin record stores. El Michels Affair	Enter The 37th Chamber (Picture Disc)	Fat Beats Records	Pending	Picture Disc	"Led by saxophonist/organist Leon Michels and producer/engineer Jeff Silverman, El Michels Affair began as a loose collaboration of session musicians (including members of top-selling acts Sharon Jones & the Dap Kings, the Budos Band, and Antibalas) that looked to blend some of the vibrant quality of soundtrack records with the recording aesthetic of early reggae, and the rawness of 60's rock--they called it 'Cinematic Soul.' This delicate balance was evident on their 2005 debut album Sounding Out the City, which earned critical acclaim and acted as the inaugural full-length release for Michels and Silverman's burgeoning label Truth & Soul (also the moniker for the duo as a production team). The buzz generated from the album and a series of moderately successful 7" vinyl singles from Truth & Soul led to an invitation by Toyota's Scion division for El Michels Affair to accompany the rapper Raekwon of Wu-Tang Clan for a promotional concert. As avid Wu-Tang fans, not only were the band leaders thrilled with the opportunity, but Michels found that the 'Cinematic Soul' sound was consistent with the moods of RZA's gritty soundscapes on the classic Wu-Tang releases. The concert was such a success, El Michels Affair went on to play several more concerts nationwide backing Raekwon and other members of the Clan, and the shows led to the recording of two smash 7" singles featuring instrumental reinterpretations of the Wu-Tang classic songs "C.R.E.A.M." and "Bring Da Ruckus." The singles combined to sell an extraordinary amount of over 7,000 units worldwide, and their success led to a contract in 2007 with indie hip hop powerhouse Fat Beats Records to record an entire album of Wu-Tang Clan interpolations entitled Enter the 37th Chamber."		1,000

Evian Christ	Duga-3	TRI ANGLE	Pending		In 2012 Evian Christ, aka Joshua Leary, became one of the years most talked about producers with the release of his free mixtape 'Kings And Them', later becoming a critically acclaimed 12" released through Tri Angle Records. 'Kings And Them' was an innovative fusion of blasted ambience and icy hip hop beats, which garnered support from artists like Jamie xx, Animal Collective, Actress, Purity Ring (who Evian Christ toured N. America with over the summer), Four Tet and Caribou, as well as rapturous praise from influential radio DJs such as Mary Anne Hobbs, Benji B, and Rob Da Bank. 'Duga-3' a heavily conceptual, 20 minute long experimental piece representing Evian Christ at his most abstract. GZA	Liquid Swords Chess Box	Get On Down	$73.98	Vinyl LP	For Record Store Day, Get On Down is proud to bring you GZA's Liquid Swords in its most deluxe treatment ever. The Liquid Swords Chess Box contains the entire Liquid Swords album and complete instrumentals, as well as in depth, full color liner notes with contributions from GZA himself, inner jackets and dust sleeves with memorable vintage artwork from the original release, and even a complete full-sized wooden chess set, which can be played on the chess board contained on the inner lining of the box. In the early to mid nineties and at the peak of his powers as a producer, Wu-Tang Clan mastermind RZA crafted a distinctive soundtrack at his basement studio in Staten Island. Whether or not he knew it at the time this haunting landscape of dusty samples, sharp snares and menacing urban gloom, would soon become a pillar of hip hop history. These instrumentals, peppered in with frequent interludes of dialogue from the classic samurai flick Shogun Assassin, became the core of the GZA's 1995 sophomore LP Liquid Swords and would eventually be considered by many as each individual's finest work. Cerebral, strategic and precise with his words, GZA crystallizes a range of influences - from chess to kung-fu films to mob flicks and Eastern philosophy - into sharply delivered rhymes. Many would argue there is no greater MC to compliment the RZA's production as well as GZA did on Liquid Swords. Housed in a sturdy wrapped hard board box with a deluxe magnetic clasp, this edition of Liquid Swords spans across 8 sides of vinyl with the complete album as a double LP and the full RZA produced instrumentals as a double LP. The album features appearances by the entire Wu-Tang Clan, and includes the auspicious debut of Killah Priest on "B.I.B.L.E." Liquid Swords now has the vinyl reissue deserving of a project acknowledged as one of the "100 Best Rap Albums" by The Source and "Top 100 Records of the 1990s" by Pitchfork.		750

Husker Du	Amusement	Numero	$16.98	7" Vinyl	In August of 1980, Grant Hart, Bob Mould, and Greg Norton booked time at Minneapolis' Blackberry Way Studio to record what would become their debut 7". A deal with Twin/Tone was thought to be in the bag but was derailed by the fall 1980 signing of the Replacements—Hüsker Dü's then-chief rival. Spurned on by Twin/Tone's rejection, a scathing version of "Amusement" was thrashed out live at Duffy's, and plans were made for a four song 10", with Blackberry Way cuts "Statues," "Writer's Cramp," and "Let's Go Die" making up the balance. The enormous start up cost for a debut release forced a format change, and in January of 1981 Reflex Records #A, "Amusement" b/w "Statues," found its way to market. The single would find two pressings over the next few years, but fall out of print as the band's style changed from Metal Box-esque post-punk to Los Angeles-inspired hardcore. For Record Store Day 2013, Numero will issue "Amusement" b/w "Statues" and the studio alternates "Writer's Cramp" and "Let's Go Die" as a 2x7". The Blackberry Way cuts have been remastered from a first generation sub-master (the originals have long been lost), while "Amusement" was cut from the original live board tape. Grant Hart's Fake Name Graphix artwork remains untouched, beefed up by a 28pt board gatefold jacket. Pressed in an edition of 4000, this deluxe reissue should satiate a new generation of Hüsker lovers. For at least another 33 years, anyhow.		2,700

Kugelberg, Johan	Enjoy The Experience: Homemade Records 1958-1992	Sinecure Books	Pending	Book w/ 7"	Enjoy The Experience is the largest collection of American private press vinyl ever amassed and presented, featuring over 1,000 reproductions of the cover art of self released titles from 1958-1992. It is the seventh major book release by Johan Kugelberg, the author and editor behind The Velvet Underground: New York Art, Born In The Bronx and Punk: An Aesthetic (Rizzoli), True Norwegian Black Metal (Vice), Brad Pitt's Dog (Zero Books) and Beauty Is In The Street: A Visual Record of the May '68 Paris Uprising (Four Corners). The subjects of Enjoy The Experience range from Lesbian Folk singers to Psychedelic Disco bands; Awkward Teen Pop combos to Pizza Parlor Organists; Religious Cult Leaders to Swank Sinatra Imitators. But this is not a novelty freak show: also profiled and discussed are some of the most highly regarded rock, soul, jazz, funk and singer/songwriter albums from the latter half of the twentieth century. From the awkward-yet-talented to the genius-yet-bizarre, one thing unites all musicians presented here: they sincerely hoped to become stars, they committed themselves to record, and they left themselves vulnerable to an industry not understanding of nuance, not appreciative of character. Enjoy The Experience includes an introduction by editor Johan Kugelberg, a lengthy overview by legendary rare record dealer Paul Major, along with commentaries, hundreds of reviews and over fiftyographies by noted enthusiasts and collectors like Gregg Turkington, Will Louviere, Brandan Kearney, Geoffrey Weiss, Jack Streitman, Eothen Alapatt, Rich Haupt and Mike Ascherman.		750

Los Straitjackets and Freddy Cannon	Limited Edition 7" Vinyl Single	Spinout	$9.98	7" Vinyl	Rock and roll pioneer Freddy Cannon and Los Straitjackets met when Freddy saw the band play their Rock En Espanol version of his signature song "Tallahassee Lassie" on Late Night With Conan O'Brien and Freddy emailed his appreciation. A few years later they joined forces to cut this two sided slab of rock'n'baseball vinyl. Freddy's lifelong enthusiasm for the Red Sox was so infectious, even Yankee fan Eddie Angel couldn't help joining in! Side a is new anthem penned by the 99ers' Stephen Brookfield entitled "The Sox R Rockin'" and side B "Red Sox Nation" combines rock'n'roll classics "Land of 1000 Dances" with "Dirty Water" with new lyrics that will be sure to have the Fenway Faithful singing along this season. LP	Into The Wild	Warner Bros.	$16.98	Vinyl LP	It's simple: Once you see and hear LP, you remember. She's a gripping performer, a curly-headed force of nature who looks like a cross between a young Bob Dylan and Marc Bolan, albeit often wielding a ukulele. A rockin' ukulele, in front of a dynamic, versatile band, that is. And her voice is instantly ear-catching, a natural instrument of power and grace. But there's much more to it. There's just something about the Los Angeles-based singer-songwriter-artist that grabs hold - a spirit, an exuberance, and a belief in her gifts as a musician and in the power of music to reach people.		2,000

Mercury Rev	Deserted Songs	Modern Classics	$19.98	Vinyl LP	* Official Record Store Day 2013 Exclusive* Re-mastered from original sources* 180-gram LP housed in a hand-numbered gatefold "tip-on" jacket * Limited color wax edition on white and clear vinyl* 4-pg insert with notes by Mercury Rev's Jonathan Donahue & Grasshopper* Unseen photos from the "Deserter's Songs" original photo sessions Last year, the vinyl reissue of Mercury Rev's cherished 1998 album, Deserter's Songs, kicked off our new Modern Classics Recordings imprint. We couldn't have found a more apt beginning - Deserter's Songs has lost none of its charm in the 15 years since its release. Out of step with the times even when it was released in 1998, Deserter's Songs has all the hallmarks of a lost classic. Except it wasn't lost at all - it was lauded by everyone from hip-young-thing-chasing NME to the more distanced likes of Mojo magazine. Retrospectively, Pitchfork placed it in their Top 100 albums of the 1990s. Now, we are digging into the album's archive with Deserted Songs, a collection of outtakes from the Deserter's Songs sessions, all of which are new to vinyl. Knowing how we roll, this is no standard package. Pressed on 180-gram vinyl, housed in a hand-numbered, old school 'tip-on'-style gatefold jacket, it has insert notes by Mercury Rev's Jonathan Donahue & Grasshopper and comes with unseen photos from the original Deserter's Songs photo sessions. The special edition of 2,000 is pressed on white and clear vinyl. Set to be one of our official Record Store Day 2013 releases, this is a special package. But this is special music too, living in a magical, twilight netherworld somewhere between fairytale and nightmare. In these demos, offcuts and alternate and early versions of Deserter's Songs tracks, we hear the bits in between the grooves of the original album. Where Deserter's Songs is an album of grandiose proportions, Deserted Songs strips back to the songs' fragile hearts. Intended as the band's swan song, Deserter's Songs was made with utter abandon. That sense of freedom permeates these demos, some of which are throwaway instrumentals, some embryonic versions of iconic songs. And in hearing these tracks, we find that the seeds of Deserter's Songs were sown many years before the album's release - there's a version of "Goddess On A Hiway" recorded on home cassette in 1989. Of course, the band didn't bow out after Deserter's Songs. Instead, the album propelled them to a new level of fame, and the group would go on to make plenty more strange, beautiful, dreamlike music. They allowed themselves a brief pause to look back in 2011, when the album was reissued on CD with a bonus disc featuring the Deserted Songs tracks in their original, digital release. That summer, they played Deserter's Songs in full to wowed audiences across Europe. Then they promptly stopped looking back and moved on.		1,200

Combined they would form Non-Phixion, a group that would go on to be revered in underground rap circles, would share stages with such contemporaries as Beatnuts, Gang Starr, The Roots, & more, and influence countless future generations of MCs. Their following of dedicated fans of true rap music allowed them to leave their mark worldwide, and rave reviews for their acclaimed studio album The Future Is Now, from the likes of Rolling Stone, Vibe, The Source, and more. Though the group eventually split in 2006, their reputation remains strong as ever, and only serves to grow, with this special Record Store Day release of one of their first great singles, "I Shot Reagan." Perry, Lee Scratch & The Upsetters	Chapter 1 (10" Boxset)	Clocktower	$36.98	10" Vinylx3	THE early 70's classic DUB record featuring Scratch & Company: The Upsetters. These recordings are the producer's known collaborators, featuring an assemblage of pulsating organs, distorted guitar scratches, and deep BASS. Vocals come in the form of the standard dub production arrangements and occasional Rasta philosophizing. The most striking track is "Tighten Up", an infectious tune, with a fine groove that is transformed thru Perry's production methods. The entire track is warped beyond belief almost sounding as if it's under dreamy, Jamaican water. Limited 3 x 10" boxset on RED, GREEN, and GOLD vinyl, with 2 bonus tracks, for RSD. In an edition of 2,000 copies.		2,000

Public Image Ltd.	Public Image b/w The Cowboy Song	Light In The Attic	$7.98	7" Vinyl	* Official Record Store Day 2013 Exclusive* Limited edition of 4,000, hand-numbered copies* Exact reproduction of original fold-out newsprint sleeve * First time available in U.S.* NOT AVAILABLE IN THE UK "I'm not the same as when I began/I will not be treated as property." For Record Store Day 2013, Light In The Attic is set to issue one of the 20th century's pivotal singles: the debut UK 7" by Public Image Ltd., never before available in the U.S. In 1976, Johnny Rotten set the agenda for punk music's year zero with 'Anarchy In The UK', a song that summed up the band's spirit, sound and attitude in one shocking package. Two years later, The Sex Pistols were in tatters, but Rotten was as unsentimental as you'd hope. He reclaimed his real name - John Lydon - and set about forming a band whose very identity kicked against the media manipulating and manipulated Pistols - his new group was Public Image Ltd. For this one time pressing, we are re-releasing this landmark single in an exact reproduction of its original 'newspaper' sleeve mocking the infamous 'red top' tabloids (its 'stories' included "The Girl Who Drove Me To Tea, by Donut's wife Carol," Donut being Drummer Jim Walker). The B-side, "The Cowboy Song", included here, revels in Lydon's newfound sense of freedom that he found with bassist Jah Wobble, drummer Walker and guitarist Keith Levine. It is, essentially, the sound of four people letting loose in a studio - and to hell with the listener. They played it - twice - at their debut gig.		2,200

The songs were also recorded during a real tornado. Bonkers.		700

"Created by Japanese engineer Tadoa Kikumoto in 1984, this is the quintessential drum machine of House and Techno music. The 909 is an analog and sample based machine equipped with MIDI and DIN Sync controls. Sounds included in the 909's drum kit are snare drum, bass drum, bass drum, hi-hit, cymbal, handclap, high rack tom, mid rack tom, floor tom and rim shot. The analog circuitry allows the user some flexibility to manipulate these sounds. The 909 is fully programmable, and like its predecessor, the TR-808, it can store entire songs and not only patterns. Its built-in 16 step sequencer would go on to revolutionize the way dance music was to be produced, though this was not planned at it's inception. In Hip Hop, the TR-909 was most famously used by Schoolly D, as well as famed producers like Kurtis Mantronik." - Joe Mansfield from "Beat Box: A Drum Machine Obsession"		750

The shimmering sound of Sharon Van Etten's Jagjaguwar debut album, Tramp, both defies and illuminates the unsteadiness of a life in flux. Throughout the 14 months of scattered recording sessions, Van Etten was without a home -- crashing with friends and storing her possessions between varied locations. The only constant in Van Etten's life during this time was spent in Aaron Dessner's garage studio.		1,500

These artists are at the forefront of an expansion of the gig poster genre. MONDO's reinvigoration of "the film poster as an art form" and Gallery 1988's theme based exhibits are only two ways in which the artwork is reaching a greater public. Various Artists	Theppabutr Productions: The Man Behind The Molam Sound 1972-75	Light In The Attic	$27.98	Vinyl LPx2	Official Record Store Day 2013 Exclusive Limited one time pressing of 2,000 copies* 2xLP housed in an old-school gatefold tip-on jacket * Vinyl package comes wrapped in a faux-wood O-card * Includes 18 x 24" foldout poster* Includes download card with full album and two bonus tracks not available on the previous CD release Ever travelled in time and space wearing headphones? The latest album from Light In The Attic's on-going collaboration with Bangkok's ZudRangMa label promises to help you do just that. Following the celebrated Thai Funk: ZudRangMa compilations exploring Molam music from the '60s, '70s and '80s, it's time for an in-depth look at one of the architects of the sound. Theppabutr Productions: The Man Behind The Molam Sound 1972-75 issues, for the first time outside of Thailand, the work of pioneering producer Theppabutr Satirodchompu, the man credited as the creator of the modern Molam sound. Those uninitiated in Molam (or "Mor Lam", as it's sometimes known) should probably get acquainted with Thai Funk Volumes 1 and 2, like, right now. But as time is short, let us say it was the exciting, electric music born of the age-old folk music traditions of northeast Thailand in the latter half of the 20th century. It's the sound of a corner of a far eastern nation carving its way through the musical shifts sweeping the west while keeping one eye on the past - and the resulting groove-laden vinyl gems sound just as fresh and dynamic today as they did decades ago. Theppabutr's contribution to Molam is almost immeasurable - he signed hundreds of Molam artists and recorded even more. Here, acts from his stable including Roied Petchsiam, Chanpen Sirithetp and Theppabutr's singing wife, Baneyn Rakkaen, showcase his heavy, deep and raw sound, colored by native instruments including the haunting, church organ-like khaen and the driving riffs of the phin. Like the Thai Funk compilations, Theppabutr Productions: The Man Behind The Molam Sound 1972-75 is the result of some serious crate-digging by the ZudRangMa label's own Maft Sai, who scours used record bins and street markets in Bangkok and beyond. Beyond the label, Sai is a DJ responsible for the Bangkok Paradise club, which brought Theppabutr back to the stage in February 2012 with his group Wong Dontri Molam Theppabutr. Thanks to Sai, the wider world is now privy to a rich seam of Thai pop, garage rock, funk, and disco from a selection of artists largely unknown outside of Southeast Asia. A record label and shop with a strong desire to find old gems and and present them as beautiful reissues, ZudRangMa and Light In The Attic clearly share a similar ethos despite the thousands of miles separating them. In their native Thailand, ZudRangMa's CD issues of these compilations are housed in a limited, hand-stitched soft cloth sleeve. Not to be outdone, we issued our complementary vinyl editions as epic 2xLP packages complete with gatefold sleeves, vintage album art, lovingly remastered audio and four varieties of the beautiful hand-stitched, printed and colored cloth outer sleeves. Theppabutr Productions: The Man Behind The Molam Sound 1972-75 continues that tradition, appearing here on vinyl for the first time and issued with an old

White Mandingos, The (MURS + Darryl Jenifer of Bad Brains + Sacha Jenkins SHR)	Mandingo Rally	#N/A	Pending	7" Vinyl	"Celebrated West Coast rhyme-slayer Murs, legendary Bad Brains bassist Darryl Jenifer and ego trip founder Sacha Jenkins SHR are THE WHITE MANDINGOS. The band's output combines the collective musical experiences of these three men who hail from three distinct towns: Washington DC, Los Angeles and New York ity. ""As someone who has written about music for years, it's easy for me to try to categorize our music and say that it sounds like this-meets-that, BUT, if you wist my arm, i might say that it's kinda like heavy negro spiritual..." says Jenkins, who, as a scribe, has written for many a music publication. ""And I will also say that Murs is one of the strongest writers I've ever had the pleasure of working with in any medium and his voice can command a thousand armies. As for Darryl, founder of my favorite band of all time, his passion for, and knowledge of such a broad range of musics makes his touch on this project deadly."" Bass, guitar, drums, vocals, hip hop, hardcore and dusted R&B come together to push a debut LP that takes the strengths of the band's members into fresh, uncharted territories. ""As a fan of both artists, I feel honored to be a part of such a historic project,"" Jenkins adds. ""The truth about the White Mandingos is, people who have heard it have had strong reactions to the songs--weather they dig them or not. And any time music can touch a nerve or a consciousness, that sound is on to something."" ""Mandingo Rally"" is the first physical offering from The White Mandingos, featured on a limited edition Black/White split 7"" exclusive for Record Store Day 2013.		500
